IMPRIMATUR

RITA MONALDI & FRANCESCO SORTI

- NEW IN PAPERBACK!
- Title will be supported with a full media campaign
- 'An exuberant and discursive historical novel, crammed with fascinating detail.' The Independent
- Over 4,000 copies sold in hardback
- Banned in Italy!

11 September 1683, Rome. The citizens of the city wait anxiously for the outcome of the battle for Vienna as Ottoman forces lay siege to the defenders of Catholic Europe. Meanwhile, a suspected outbreak of plague causes a famous Roman tavern to be placed under quarantine. One of its detainees, the mysterious Atto Melani, a spy in the service of France, discovers a secret passage leading deep into the Roman underworld. A plot to assassinate the Pope and plans to use the plague as a weapon of mass destruction in the battle between Islam and the West are discovered.

Meticulously researched and brilliantly conceived, Imprimatur contains startling revelations that have been concealed for centuries, drawing on original papers discovered in the Vatican archives. A thriller in the vein of Umberto Eco's The Name of the Rose, this novel sheds new light on the power struggles of 17th-century Europe, the repercussions of which are still felt today. First published to great controversy in Italy in 2002, Imprimatur was boycotted by the Italian press and publishing world. Despite this, the novel has gained European bestseller status; it has been translated into 20 languages with editions published in 45 countries. Over 1 million copies have been sold to date.

MAGGIE GEE

- A hilarious comedy of cultural errors
- "One of our most ambitious and challenging novelists."
The Sunday Times
- Originally published by Telegram Books, UK
- Title will be supported with a national media campaign
—print, radio and TV

Vanessa Henman, a brittle middle-aged British writer, is attending a Pan-African Writers' Conference in Uganda. She decides to pay her former cleaner, Mary Tendo, a surprise visit. But Mary, now the Executive Housekeeper of the Sheraton Hotel in Kampala, has secretly borrowed Vanessa's ex-husband Trevor, a plumber, and taken him to her home village to help build a well. Vanessa decides instead to take a trip into Bwindi Impenetrable Forest to see the mountain gorillas. But she manages to insult her driver so much that he leaves her in the lurch, and as war threatens Bwindi from the Congo side of the border, it's up to Trevor and Mary to come to her aid. A hilarious comedy of cultural errors. Originally published by Telegram Books, UK.

BACK ON THE BLOCK BILL SIMON'S STORY

BILL SIMON, DES MONTGOMERIE, JO TUSCANO

- From his home on the Block in Sydney's Redfern, one of the most contentious and misunderstood places in Australia, Bill Simon tells the truth about life in one of Australia's most terrible juvenile institutions, where thousands of boys were warehoused and abused.
- Media-savvy author who has been interviewed on radio and for print and has taped interviews archived in the National Library
- Shows the outcome of institutionalising children and the power of the human spirit to overcome disadvantage and give their lives over to helping others.
- Reveals why Kevin Rudd needed to apologise to the Stolen Generations
- Her Excellency Maria Bashir and Rev. Tim Costello will be endorsing the book
- Major launch planned on The Block, Redfern, media coverage guaranteed

'The first insiders's view of Kinchela Aboriginal Boy's Home, and an important insight into the brutality of the NSW government's policy of assimilation.' Dr Gordon Briscoe

Stolen, beaten, deprived of his liberty and used as child labour, Bill Simon's was not a normal childhood. He was told his mother didn't want him that he was 'the scum of the earth' and was locked up in the notorious Kinchela Boys' Home for eight years. His experiences there would shape his life forever—Bill Simon got angry, something which poisoned his life for the next two decades. A life of self abuse and crime finally saw him imprisoned. But Bill Simon has turned his life around and in Back on The Block, he hopes to help others to do the same. These days Bill works on the right side of the bars, helping other member of the Stolen Generations find a voice and their place; finally putting their pain to rest.

WHY SHE LOVES HIM

WENDY JAMES

- Title will be supported by a national media campaign - print, radio, TV
- This is a work of intelligence and talent informed by a deeply humane sensitivity...If Wendy James aspires to be our national novelist, she is on her way. In equal measures intellectual and sensual, Out of the Silence is a brilliantly cut literary gem sparkling from every angle. – Sydney Morning Herald

These are tales of fugitive lives: dazzling portraits of women and men on the run; from their present, their past, their future – from themselves...

Here, finally, is the complete collection of short fiction from award-winning author Wendy James. Holding a discerning mirror to seemingly ordinary lives, James captures recurring themes of love, betrayal, passion and guilt to show just how vulnerable and intricate the human heart really is. Whether narrating from the living room of a contemporary marriage, from the wheel of a desperate getaway car, or while composing an elaborate diversion in 18th century Salzburg, James has the rare ability to wryly comment on humankind with unnerving clarity and precision.

PICTURING AUSTRALIA

NATIONAL LIBRARY OF AUSTRALIA

- Beautifully Illustrated in full colour throughout

A stimulating collection of visual imagery, Picturing Australia is a volume of stories: of adventure, near tragedy and deliverance, of success, failure and ultimate triumph, that are a testament to the changing face of this ancient land and the people who inhabit it. The selection of images from the National Library's Pictures Collection contained in this volume (watercolours, oils and lithographs) chronicles Australia's history and society; the stories of the people, places and events. Each picture is accompanied by a story, either of the subject, the artist or, even, the remarkable circumstances surrounding the Library's acquisition of parts of its collection.

IN THE WAKE OF THE BEAGLE
SCIENCE IN THE SOUTHERN OCEANS FROM THE AGE OF DARWIN

IAIN MCCALMAN, NIGEL ERSKINE (eds.)

- Publication coincides with the bicentenary of Charles Darwin's birth, the 150th anniversary of publication of his famous evolutionary theory On the Origin of Species and a major exhibition at the Australian National Maritime Museum, Charles Darwin: Voyages and Ideas that Shook the World (March-August 2009)
- This highly illustrated and beautifully designed full-colour book explores the vital contribution made by Australasia and the Pacific to Darwin's thinking, the importance of his contemporaries Hooker, Huxley and Wallace, and how their work continues on new scientific frontiers

Strange as it may seem, the long wake of the tiny HMS Beagle stretches from the nineteenth century into the future of our globe. Charles Darwin spent only three months in Australia, but Australasia and the Pacific contributed to his evolutionary thinking in a variety of ways. One hundred and fifty years after the publication of On the Origin of Species the internationally acclaimed authors of In the Wake of the Beagle provide new insights into the world of collecting, surveying and cross-cultural exchange in the antipodes in the age of Darwin. They explore the groundbreaking work of Darwin and his contemporaries Joseph Hooker, Thomas Huxley and Alfred Wallace, examine the complex trading relationships of the region's daring voyagers, and take a very modern look at today's cutting-edge scientific research, at a time when global warming has raised the stakes to an unprecedented level.

WHO'S THAT JUMBUN IN THE LOG?

NARELLE MCROBBIE, ILLUSTRATED BY GRACE FIELDING

- A story of identity and belonging
- Features an iconic Australian insect
- Beautiful artwork makes this an art book to treasure
- Illustrations by Crichton Award winning artist, Grace Fielding

Who's that Jumbun in the Log? is the delightful tale of a house-proud, home-loving witchetty grub called Jumbie. The word 'jumbun' is the name commonly used by the Yidinji people of Far North Queensland for the witchetty grub. Jumbie loves her comfortable, clean log in the rainforest. Unlike her best friend, Bungy, she prefers to stay close to home, but when forest intruders force her out, Jumbie has to learn a thing or two about what it really means to be a jumbun.

AN AMERICAN STORY THE SPEECHES OF BARACK OBAMA

DAVID OLIVE

- Updated edition includes President Obama's election night victory speech and the inaugural address
- The chronology has been expanded to include a brief section on Obama's presidential victory
- Featured in The Washington Post's round-up of Obama books, "Obama + Books = Good Reading"

"With truly inspirational speeches and the back story for all of them, An American Story is a feelgood read . . . [that] stays just as interesting as the actual campaign was or even more so." –Sacramento Book Review

Barack Obama, junior senator from Illinois, first captured America's attention with his keynote address to the Democratic National Convention in 2004. President Obama's superb and captivating oratory style has earned him comparisons to John F. Kennedy and even Martin Luther King – and on the campaign trail Obama has achieved near rock-star status. Obama speaks on themes of race, identity, community, and above all, his hoped-for vision of a New America. His legions of supporters gravitate towards his unblemished idealism. Still, as David Olive writes, "even the most ardent supporters of Barack Obama ... might wonder at times if the mesmerizing orator is more style than substance." Here, interspersed with the entire text of Obama's key speeches, Olive explores the controversies: Obama shedding his American flag lapel pin, Reverend Wright, his antiwar stance, his strong Christian faith, and his often racially charged remarks – and the victories: passage for more than 280 bills in his last two years in the Illinois state senate, his actions towards social justice, and his remarkable rise from underdog to President of the United States.

PETER SCULTHORPE: THE MAKING OF AN AUSTRALIAN COMPOSER GRAEME SKINNER

- Australia's most eminent composer, Peter Sculthorpe turns 80 on 29th April
- Celebrations Australia-wide throughout 2009 to acknowledge the work of this great composer
- Peter Sculthorpe to create a new work to inaugurate Elizabeth Murdoch Hall
- Highlights include the opening of the Melbourne Recital Centre, a Peter Sculthorpe 80th Birthday concert at the Art Gallery of NSW
- Festivals throughout May, including Canberra and Kangaroo Valley
- Significant authorised biography of Australia's best-known composer featuring more than 60 images
- Includes previously unseen personal correspondence spanning two decades

Peter Sculthorpe is Australia's best-known living composer and is widely held to be the most important composer the country has yet produced. This, the first biography of the composer, tells the fascinating story of his rise to prominence. Beautifully written and fastidiously researched, this authorised biography provides an insight into Sculthorpe's formative years: his quest for a personal voice, and his arrival – through many creative friendships and collaborations – at a place in the collective heart of the nation. It is also a social history, charting the rise of modernism in Australian music through the eyes of its key player.

SHAKING HANDS ON THE FRINGE: NEGOTIATING THE ABORIGINAL WORLD AT KING GEORGE'S SOUND

TIFFANY SHELLAM

- Innovative history writing, beautifully crafted prose
- A book of local, national and international interest
- Despite the limited scope of the subject, the first two points liberate this book into a national (and international) interest: it is not a local book

In 1826 the British set up a garrison on the edges of an Aboriginal world at King George's Sound, the site of present day Albany, Western Australia, with the aim of deterring the French from occupying the area. The British newcomers and the area's Indigenous inhabitants, the King Ya-nup, came to share a small space, forcing both cultures to adapt in order to communicate and interact with one another. Within this sphere associations and friendships were formed that were as surprising as they were unique. This ethnographic history narrates several intimate cross-cultural stories of the developing relationships between British and Aboriginal individuals at King George's Sound.

SLOW BURNGEORGE ALEXANDER

- Gritty contemporary political work based on race politics and framed within a crime and corruption genre novel
- The author's previous novel Mortal Divide, (Brandt & Schlesinger) was awarded the NSW Premier's Award, 1999 and he was short-listed for the Victorian Premier's Literary Award for New Writing for Sparagmos (1989)
- Alexander is currently the coordinator of Contemporary Art Programmes at the Art Gallery of New South Wales

An organisation called The Cleaners is making threats, days before the Australia Day holiday in Sydney. An Aboriginal protester was murdered the year before. Lost in the emotional quicksand of marital breakup, journalist Alex Tolman finds himself caught up in the events. Written with page-turning energy, but with a flair that allows the reader to linger and savour, this intricately plotted novel is a cross-weave of romantic discord, family dysfunction, class tension and Indigenous politics. Slow Burn is a work of crackling literary fiction that has aspects of the thriller over the bones of a ghost story.

THE NATIVE TITLE MARKET*DAVID RITTER

- Written by a leader in the field of native title in Australia

Describes and critically analyses the world of native title agreements between Aboriginal groups and developers that has emerged since the Native Title Act was passed in 1994. The purpose of the book is to challenge the popular and convenient myths that have emerged about native title agreement making. The special importance of the work is that it is the only book to challenge the orthodoxy that is accepted by many commentators, journalists, government institutions, resource developers and academics.

A STUDY IN BLACK & WHITE: THE ABORIGINES IN AUSTRALIAN HISTORY 3rd Ed
MALCOLM PRENTIS

- Previous edition published by Social Science Press in 1988
- This edition has been extensively revised and updated
- Includes 100 black and white photos, maps and cartoons
- The author is Professor of History at the Australian Catholic University
- His other publications include A Concise Companion to Aboriginal History and The Scots in Australia

Many changes have occurred in Aboriginal history in the last twenty years. This means not only that history has continued to happen since 1988. It also means that there have been sharp challenges to our understanding of the whole of the past, before and since 1988. The past itself has been even more hotly contested than before 1988 as historians and others became embroiled in the so-called 'history wars'. This edition has been extensively revised.

BARACK OBAMA: ANOTHER COUNTRY IN A POST-AMERICAN WORLD CAROL G PEDERSEN

This unique study of Barack Obama seeks to place his extraordinary rise within the larger context of a possible historic political realignment in the US and limits to US power in the world. Pedersen asks what the election of the first African American president will mean for American national identity in the 21st century. Furthermore, he assesses whether Obama's grassroots campaign strategy will influence the way he might govern as President.

FINDING LOST - SEASON FOUR: THE UNOFFICIAL GUIDE

NIKKI STAFFORD

- Helps piece together a show that is puzzle-like at best
- Gives viewers some background information on the historical, philosophical, religious, and literary references on the show
- Contains many never-before-seen photos

"Nikki Stafford knows TV, and she knows TV fans . . . Stafford has succeeded in creating books for [Lost fans], a crowd that could arguably be called the most difficult to please." — Jon Lachonis, BuddyTV.com

Lost, the Golden Globe and Emmy Award-winning hit television show, has become renowned for its complexity week after week, sending both cult and mainstream fans to the Internet, encyclopedias, or religious texts as they try to figure out the keys to some of the mysteries. If you're feeling as lost as the survivors, then Finding Lost — Season Four: The Unofficial Guide will help to put the pieces of the puzzle in place. The season 4 guide will contain analyses on the Oceanic Six, how the time travel theories play into the greater mysteries on the show, how different characters are starting to come together, and point the way to how this series could possibly end. It will include chapters on the books alluded to this season (The Tempest, Slaughterhouse Five, Valis) and give background into new philosophical and scientific references.

A PRIEST IN HELL: GANGS, MURDERERS AND SNITCHING IN A CALIFORNIA JAIL

RANDALL RADIC

- Randall Radic is an Old Catholic Priest, former pastor and ex-felon
- This is a unique slant on true crime: a pastor commits a white-collar crime and ends up in a maximum-security penitentiary

On November 5, 2005, Randall Radic was arrested and charged with ten felonies. Desperation for a monied lifestyle led Radic, a pastor in the northern California community of Ripon, to first mortgage the home provided to him by his church, before selling off the church itself. His crime is exposed when a large bank deposit catches the attention of the authorities. Radic is subsequently convicted of embezzlement, forgery, and fraud, and he spends six months in a California jail before a plea bargain facilitates his release. At 54, Radic is well above the average age of the prison population, and his background as a priest makes him both a target and a confidante within the prison walls. Through the book, Radic introduces the stories of several of his fellow inmates, detailing their crimes, cases, and struggles. This is the gritty, painful reality of crime and consequence.

JONAS BROTHERS FOREVER: THE UNOFFICIAL STORY OF KEVIN, JOE AND NICK SUSAN JANIC

- The author is an experienced entertainment journalist
- Includes lots of photos of the Jonas Brothers, mixed with the backstage story
- The band has a fan base that is growing exponentially
- The Jonas Brothers already have a huge following for their music, concerts, film (with Miley Cyrus), and will expand that audience with their new TV series premiering in late 2008

The Jonas Brothers have gone from obscurity to superstardom in the course of a year, and there's simply no stopping them. From their top-selling albums, to their sensational sold-out tours, their Disney Channel original movie Camp Rock and forthcoming TV series J.O.N.A.S., Kevin, Joe and Nick Jonas are here to stay. Jonas Brothers Forever: The Unofficial Story of Kevin, Joe and Nick chronicles the boys' lives and careers from child performers to their first disappointing Columbia Records deal to being signed by Disney's Hollywood Records. From that point, their lives changed forever.

GRUNGE IS DEAD: THE ORAL HISTORY OF SEATTLE
ROCK MUSIC*GREG PRATO

- No up-to-date first-person history of the Seattle Grunge scene exists on the market today
- Author has one-of-a-kind access to key players like Eddie Vedder, Layne Staley's mom, and others.

The early '90s grunge movement may have lasted only a few years, but it spawned some of the greatest rock music of all time: Pearl Jam, Nirvana, Alice in Chains, and Soundgarden. This book weaves together the definitive story of the Seattle music scene through a series of interviews with the people who were there. Taking the form of an "oral" history, this book contains over 130 interviews, along with essential background information from acclaimed music writer Greg Prato.
